Focus on: Company Sponsored Specialized Employer Training

By Neil Cuomo

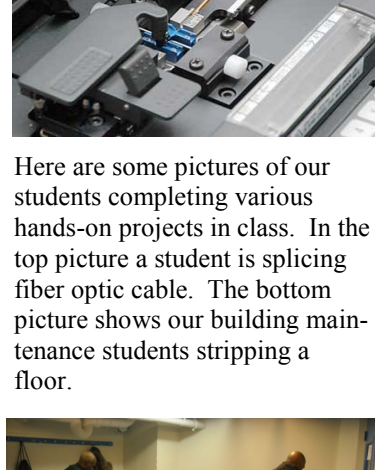

QBITTI periodically provides sponsored advanced training on the latest technology to employers upon request. These requests come in many forms, from simply providing training space and equipment, to teaching an entire class. QBITTI is uniquely qualified to provide this training because we offer a state of the art training facility, experienced staff, and industrial quality equipment for all types of training needs. Company sponsored specialized training classes are only available to employees of the company sponsor. Fortunately, we all benefit from this type of training. The training not only provides a valuable and needed service to a current or future employer, but also gives us valuable insight into the future needs of our specific training industries. Company sponsored specialized training ends up helping the entire industry.

Placement Highlights

By Bill Higgins

The student body here at QBITTI benefit greatly from our instructors' extensive experience prior to making the transition to the classroom. Our instructors typically have more than 15 years of work experience in their chosen fields. Both their experience and knowledge help to enhance the entire learning process. We would like to congratulate the following graduates who recently obtained training related jobs last month: Building Maintenance graduates Amin G. (39) is on the Staff of a Construction Management firm in Brooklyn, Manuel M. (39) is on the Maintenance Staff with a non-profit group in NYC. Plumber's Helper graduate(s) Sean C. (26) is working with a neighborhood firm in Brooklyn. Darryl C. (45) and Coy H. (23), both graduates of the Electrician's Helper program, are both working as Apprentices with an established Fire Alarm Company in Queens. Congratulations to all our 2011 graduates who are putting their training to good use in the workforce. We look forward to announcing more success stories here throughout the New Year.

Volume 2012, Issue 1
